Introduction

Technology is a core part of pupils' lives, and this policy aims to protect school users from accidental or deliberate misuse that compromises our systems and users. It:

- comprises 4 sets of rules (KS1, KS2, Parents, Staff) encapsulating all Acceptable Use Policy elements into age-appropriate and role-appropriate pieces.
- cannot guarantee that children won't ever access inappropriate materials, but putting in place usage rules that support our automated filtering cuts the risks;
- does not provide technical guidance about the set-up or maintenance of hardware, software, backup regimes, transmission protocols, etc.

Embedding a policy into the daily lives of hundreds of users requires ongoing promotion and attention by staff, the children, and their parents /carers.

Age-appropriate rules for children

The policy includes separate sets of rules for KS1 and for KS2 pupils, and the spaces for children's signatures are intended for age-appropriate use:

- KS1 teachers can decide whether signing will help to encourage mindfulness of the rules by the children; it is not a requirement of this policy.
- KS2 children will be expected to sign. The KS2 and Parents /Carers Acceptable Use pages will form part of the HHJS Admissions Pack.

All staff should champion good practices on a daily basis.

Role-appropriate rules for parents /carers and staff

Parents are told that we take online safety seriously; children must follow rules and parents must keep them safe whilst using the internet at home. Social media postings about the schools must be respectful. No signature is required, but links to CEOP (Child Exploitation and Online Protection Command) reinforce a serious message.

Staff must comply with rules for good password management, professional standards of online behaviour, and accessing school systems responsibly, etc. Signatures are required because non-compliance may result in disciplinary action.

Parents /Carers - Acceptable Use Policy for IT

Parents /Carers have an essential role in the education, monitoring and regulation of their children's on-line experiences. We will therefore seek to provide information and awareness through letters, our website, newsletters and parents' evenings.

School computers aid and assist learning, and have internet access. To keep children safe online we ask them to make agreements that they will observe our rules. We also take other precautions to try and prevent children from accessing inappropriate materials, and we will contact parents /carers if we have concerns about your child's online safety or behaviour.

Equally, parents /carers have an obligation to keep children safe whilst using the internet at home, and you should inform the school if you have any concern so that we can work together.

If a parent/ carer posts libelous or inflammatory comments on Facebook or similar sites that relate to the schools or the children, we will use the appropriate 'report abuse' section of the site. In serious cases we will consider legal options to deal with any such misuse.

Parents /carers must not publish images or videos of children (other than their own) or staff at school without permission.

Guidelines are available from the Child Exploitation and Online Protection Command (CEOP): <https://www.ceop.police.uk/safety-centre/>, and there is also help for parents: <https://www.thinkuknow.co.uk/parents/>

In summary, our Acceptable Use Policy for IT /technology requires:

- Each school to respond to inappropriate or unsafe online behaviour that is observed or reported;
- Parents /carers to promote safe use of the internet at home, and to inform the school about any concern.
